At the same time, as the day's agenda was finally being prepared, it was learned that the United States has retreated from its original decision to take no part in the open, preliminary debates.

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Oct. 28.—(INS)—John E. Galloway, 23-year-old Harrisburg veteran, maintained steady calm in jail today at State College where he was being held on a homicide charge in connection with the shooting of his bride of 34 days.

Police county authorities planned to air the case at the December court term.

Tragedy Saturday

The tragedy occurred early Saturday morning near the Pennsylvania State college where Galloway was a junior. His wife, Katherine D. Galloway, formerly of Nanticoke, died immediately after a 32-caliber bullet smashed through her chin and lodged near the spine.

Police Chief John Juba said the youth had displayed no remorse since an alleged statement in which he told police of the shooting.

"I don't think there is any remorse in him," Juba said. "He hasn't broken down or cried."

In the reported statement Galloway was quoted as saying he had pointed the gun at his wife without fully realizing what he was doing. He said he had been drinking beer, according to police.

YOKOHAMA, Oct. 28.—(INS)—An investigation was started today into the drowning of two American women who were civilian employees of Allied headquarters in Tokyo.

The women drowned when a station wagon in which they were riding with two men plunged off a pier at Yokohama during Navy Day ceremonies yesterday. The cruiser USS Chicago was tied up at the pier.

The two men—identified as J. A. Butler and G. M. Kirkland, Red Cross employees—made their escape by swimming through the water.

It was said the men were forced to the surface by the water pressure and had no opportunity to aid the two women.

The pressure hampered efforts to recover the bodies of the two women for more than an hour after the accident. The names of the victims were withheld pending notification of relatives.

Woman Slayer Dies In Chair

Chester Man Pays Death Penalty For Murder Of Woman Last April

BELLEFONTE, Pa., Oct. 28.—(INS)—Twenty-four-year-old Frederick Morris, a Chester, Pa., stevedore, died calmly today in Pennsylvania's electric chair for the assault-slaying of Mrs. Rose Lyons Reynolds in Chester last April.

The young killer, who served 24 months overseas with the army during the war, maintained an impassive attitude to the end. Strapped into the Rockwell penitentiary chair at 12:30 a. m., Morris settled himself back as though making himself comfortable in an easy chair.

He made no statement and three minutes later was pronounced dead. Morris joined in death his partner in the crime, Z. Grant Tyler, 23, of Chester, who committed suicide by gas in his home the day after Mrs. Reynolds was found dying in the park a letter "W" carved in her forehead.

Mrs. Reynolds, wife of Frank Reynolds, 41, a textile worker, had accompanied Morris and Tyler in an early morning taxicab ride that ended when the three got out at the park.

Morris was arrested after Tyler ended his life. While recovering from his self-inflicted wounds, he confessed that he and Tyler criminally assaulted Mrs. Reynolds and beat her fatally.

The surviving slayer was convicted June 12 by a jury of 11 women and one man at Media after they had deliberated less than five minutes. No recommendation of mercy was made by the jurors.

Pre-Election Survey Of Nation Forecasts Republican Gains

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—The American people seem determined today to elect Democrats from control of the House of Representatives, and possibly of the Senate too, in the November national election.

The Republicans appear certain to capture the new House, which convenes next January 3. They also have a chance to win control of the Senate.

The Republican majority in the House may range anywhere from 10 to 35 votes. They may take the Senate by a margin of from two to four votes.

A nationwide survey of senatorial and congressional races by International News Service was disclosed over the week-end. It disclosed the Republicans would win 36 House seats now held by Democrats and had good chances to win 17 more. Six seats now held by Republicans, were being fiercely contested and the GOP may lose one or two of them.

It appears that in the last week there has been a slight swing back to Democratic candidates in several sections. This may be due to local Democratic releases of federal price controls. It might reflect a change of sentiment in some localities.

An instance is the Fifth Missouri district, in which President Truman intervened to defeat Rep.

Auto Wage Boost Negotiations To Begin Next Week

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 28.—(INS)—New wage demands that may call for as much as 20 per cent "cost of living" boosts were reported in the process of preparation today by the CIO-United Automobile Workers Union.

Walter P. Reuther, chief of the UAW, announced in Philadelphia that new wage negotiations would begin next week with the Chrysler and Packard plants.

Addressing the annual convention of District Seven, CIO-United Steelworkers of America, Reuther failed to reveal the amount of increases to be sought, but he declared that eventually all existing contracts might be rewritten or negotiated.

Shoe Soles Were Unique Product

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—(INS)—Many of America's best-dressed citizens learned for the first time today that during the war years they walked around on shoe soles which were made of a combination of soy beans, sawdust and walnut shells.

Their informant is Elliott E. Simpson, millionaire rubber tycoon and New York inventor of the "Victory tire", who disclosed that walnut shells and sawdust were the unknown ingredients in the war-time shoe soles.

Simpson estimated at the 11th Annual Shoe Fair in Chicago that the novel combination was used on 75 million pairs of shoes sold in the past three years.

Crisis Confronts Labor Experts Of Government

No Hint Of Government Plans In Face Of Coal Strike Threat Of Week

SHIPPING TIEUP PARTIALLY ENDED

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Government labor experts faced a critical week today with the threat of coal strike dampening enthusiasm over partial settlement of the prolonged shipping tie-up.

John L. Lewis' 400,000 soft coal miners may lay down their tools Friday, the strike of 1400 pilots on eight-day, and from scattered sections of the country come reports of new labor-management battles ahead.

No Hint Of Procedure

Interior department officials, who have been operating the bituminous industry since last May, gave no hint over the weekend as to how they intend to meet Lewis' threat to void the current government-UMW contract unless a conference is held Nov. 1 to negotiate wage adjustments for his miners.

Interior Secretary J. A. Krug is on a tour of the southwest and there was no official word from his office that he intended to cut short his trip and hasten back to the capital. Some officials were said to be urging such a course.

Communists Lead In Vote In Bulgaria

LONDON, Oct. 28.—(INS)—The Sofia radio broadcast today that the first count of ballots in Bulgaria's election to elect its first Republican government placed the Communist party far in the lead.

The announcement was not accompanied by voting figures. The radio said also that the farther front, of which the Communists are a leading element, is winning a "crushing victory."

The government parties formed a bloc for the election but voters were enabled to indicate a preference for individual parties.

At stake are 465 seats in the national assembly which will write a constitution for the country.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

One week from Tuesday will be election day in New Castle, Lawrence county, and the rest of the nation. There is every indication of a revival in election interest this year, and a large turnout at the polls next week. Americans apparently are convinced the wartime axis that existed during the war is at its end, and that all eligible should get to the voting booths on November 5 to have a say in the future of the nation.

Duck hunting season opening on Saturday attracted a large number of hunters to the marshes in the areas north of Sheakleville, along the Perry Highway. Pa. Newc is told by autoists who were in that vicinity.

While traffic on the highways in this district has been quite heavy this fall, by far the great majority of cars seen in the lines of traffic are old machines. The number of new cars on the highways is exceptionally small, despite the fact that the war ended more than a year ago.

This is a most unusual autumn. Pa. Newc is told that so far there has been no frost of a killing type. Sunday, weather conditions resembled almost the middle of summer in this district.

The northern lights, Aurora Borealis, were blazing in all their glory again on Saturday night. It reached its highest brilliancy at about 9:30 p. m.

One Pa. Newc gathered nice mess or mushrooms over the weekend. There appeared to be plenty in the fields and the ones gathered went well with steak for Sunday's dinner.

Transfer Building Materials Of WAA To Housing Program

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 28.—Transfer of approximately $250,000 worth of surplus lumber, and building supplies by the Philadelphia office of the federal public housing authority last week was announced today by Frank L. McNamee, regional WAA director.

Additional supplies of urgently-needed building materials are being inventoried and will be made available to PHPA with all possible speed, McNamee added.

All of the materials released last week will be used for emergency housing for former servicemen in Pennsylvania and New Jersey. The regional WAA director said he had been informed by PHPA officials.

Shipping instructions call for the major portion to be delivered to contractors erecting veterans' housing in the Altoona, Pa., area. Some will be used in the project along Roosevelt boulevard, Philadelphia. The remainder will go to the Camden, N. J., development.

Salvation Army Plans Parties For Members Of Corps

Salvation Army corps and club members will enjoy three Halloween parties at the corps headquarters, North Jefferson street, this week.

The entire corps is invited to a party on Tuesday evening, the young people on Wednesday evening, and the Women's Home League on Thursday evening.

Seven of the young people attended the Allegheny Friday Fellowship in Pittsburgh Friday, making the trip with Lieutenant Catherine Goudy, of the local corps. The group which included Francis Davis, Charles Flickinger, Helen Flickinger, Barbara Gorst, Norman Kirkwood, Donald Freeman, and John Freeman, went first to the Plaquemine and then to the morgue.

At the Fellowship meeting in the Pittsburgh Salvation Army headquarters, they held election of officers during the business meeting, and then adjourned to the recreation room for a Halloween party.

SEEK HOUSE BURGLARS

Roger Slaughter in the Democratic primary. First reports indicated Albert L. Reeves Jr., the Republican nominee, would defeat Enos A. Axell, Slaughter's conqueror. The weekend recheck now indicates this district will remain Democratic.

Heavy Favorites

In the nation-wide battle to win control of the Senate, the Republicans continue heavy favorite to win eight of the ten seats they must gain to boss the upper branch of Congress. These victories continue to appear certain in New York, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Ohio, West Virginia, Missouri, Idaho and Wisconsin. This would leave them within two votes of controlling the Senate—one vote of a tie.

The GOP also claims impending victories in Massachusetts, Montana and Washington. The INS survey showed Mr. Veteran Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. favored over the veteran Sen. David I. Walsh in Massachusetts, with balloting eight days away. The Montana race was in doubt. In Washington, Democratic Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney in Wyoming had a slight but indecisive lead over Republican Harry P. Cain.

Predict Victories

The Republicans over the week-end also predicted GOP victories in Wyoming, Utah, New Mexico and Nevada. The INS survey indicated the Republicans had a chance to unseat Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney in Wyoming but that the Democrats were favored in the other three states.

Meanwhile, the GOP must retain its present Republican seats in Connecticut, Kentucky and California. The Republicans led in the first two but the California Senate race was a dog-fight. It may go either way.

There has been a tremendous lot of activity over the outcome of the coming elections. Heavy city registrations have been hailed by both major parties as favorable omens. INS correspondents generally reported they believed the outpouring of prospective voters meant a protest vote. If this is true, it would expand the present Republican trend into a GOP landslide.

A national poll in late September showed only 32 per cent of the voters approved the way Mr. Truman was handling his job. This was an all-time low on presidential popularity. It was a decline from a high mark of 87 per cent about a year ago.

To Clarify U. S. Positions

Senator Austin's decision to take the postscript after an initial agreement among the American delegation to wait until the full agenda had been adopted, was prompted by developments during the first week of the general assembly's deliberations.

Confer On Wage Control

Reconversion Director John R. Steelman met with the board two weeks ago but has not yet announced the administration's course of action.

Lewis demands for new mine contract terms constitutes the most serious immediate assault on wage controls but advance warning was given over the week-end of other major disputes ahead.

CIO President Philip Murray said the 300,000 members of the steel workers union will seek a wage boost "as soon as possible" and the executive board of the CIO rubber workers union is meeting in South Bend, Ind., to decide on a cost of living advance.

Concentrate On Strikes

Government mediators were concentrating, however, on current strikes. National Mediation Board Chairman Frank Douglass met Sunday with TWA President Jack Frye and David Behncke, head of the AFL Airline Pilots Union, but reported no sign of a break in the strike which has suspended operations on the airline's 28,000-mile network.

The month-old maritime walk-out was settled on the east and gulf coasts when ship operators in those areas reached an agreement with the AFL masters, mariners and pilots.

After an agreement had been reached last week with the CIO Marine Engineers, the other union of licensed Merchant Marine officers which participated in the walkout that began Oct. 1.

An immediate return to work was anticipated along the Atlantic and gulf coasts, but the strike will continue against privately-operated ships in the Pacific. The CIO Union expected the maritime commission to issue an order, however, extending terms of the east coast settlement to all government ships on the west coast.

homes over the weekend to more than $100,000.

Scotland Yard's exhaustive examination of the methods used in the various breaks produced the belief that they were carried out at the direction of a single master criminal.

Detectives determined that the thefts totaling nearly $400,000 were not the work of one gang. Yet their characteristics were so similar that officials believe one "master-mind" planned them all.

They concluded that he organized the thefts to the last detail, hiring gangs of experts to carry them out and paying them well enough to preclude "stealing."

Then, they believe, he disposed of the loot.

The protective urge of continental Europe's black market operators to convert their cash into gems is believed to have stimulated the jewel strikes.

The yard is exploring the theory that the jewels are being transmitted to a ring operating on a world-wide scale.

There are 80,000 miles of steel wires in the two main load-supporting suspension cables of the Golden Gate bridge, California.

Police Teletype Will Broadcast Snow, Ice Data

Highway Information From Other States Will Also Be Broadcast On Network

HARRISBURG, Oct. 28.—Reports of winter road conditions again will be sent out over the Pennsylvania State Police teletype system throughout Pennsylvania and to adjoining states this winter.

Colonel C. M. Wilhelm, Commissioner of the State Police, today announced that the service, which is made possible through the cooperation of the State Police, Highway and the United States Weather Bureau Office at Harrisburg, will be resumed with the first reports of dangerous highway conditions resulting from snow and ice.

Regular Broadcasts

During the winter season, regular teletype broadcasts will be made prior to 10:00 a. m. and 4:00 p. m. each day when highway conditions warrant, and in addition to this schedule, emergency information will be transmitted as soon as received.

The information concerning Pennsylvania highways is gathered by field personnel of the Pennsylvania State Police and the Pennsylvania Department of highways and relayed by teletype to State Police headquarters at Harrisburg.

The teletype is edited by Department of Highway engineers and broadcast to 56 State Police stations throughout the state. The information is also transmitted to State Police in New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, Ohio and New York.

The United States Weather Bureau Office at Harrisburg cooperates by furnishing weather forecasts for Pennsylvania.

STATE LEADS IN POSTWAR ROAD BUILDING WORK

HARRISBURG, Oct. 28.—Pennsylvania's Department of Highways occupies the Number One place in the nation when it comes to getting its post-war highway modernization program under way.

In its September issue of "Public

Construction and Construction Materials," the Federal Works Agency cites figures to show that in Pennsylvania the Department of Highways has awarded more contracts in 1946 for improvements than any other state in the Union.

The total for all of the 48 states is $419,935,000, according to the publication. Of that total Pennsylvania is credited with $36,587,000, or approximately 9 per cent.

The figures are for the months of January to July, inclusive.

A Million Dollars a Day
FREE SERVICE TO THE PUBLIC

Rendered by DOCTORS

Do you know of any great group of educators, lawyers, brokers, merchants, insurance men, bankers, scientists—who, year in and year out, day after day and night after night, give of their time, talent, energy and money to the extent of more than a million dollars per day?

At the present time, even in spite of exorbitant charges of the times, the ethical physician members of the American Medical Association are rendering more than a million dollars a day of free service to the public.

That million dollars a day is a most conservative estimate of the services rendered by the Doctors of America in free clinics, hospitals, in homes and at their offices to patients unable to pay. This huge sum does not include the services of nurses, assistants, and other personnel.

These are the services of these 54-hour workers, their principles, tenacity and examples live in the hearts of all worthy physicians.

CLELAND-KNECHT CHURCH WEDDING

One of the loveliest of the fall weddings was the candlelight ceremony in the First Presbyterian church Saturday afternoon that united in marriage Miss Sarah Jane Cleland, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. William David Cleland, of 432 Croton avenue, and Albert O. Knecht, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Knecht, of Springfield, O.

The ceremony was performed at 3:30 o'clock by Dr. Robert F. Galbreath in the presence of a large gathering of guests. Vases of white mums, palms, ferns and lighted white candles in branched candelabra banked the altar.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a wedding gown of ivory satin, fashioned with a large flat bow at the neckline and a draped bustle skirt. Her fingertip veil fell from a cap of gros point lace and she carried a colonial bouquet of white roses and mums centered with a white orchid.

Miss Mary Louise Cleland, as her sister's maid of honor, wore a gown of yellow brocade and carried a colonial bouquet of bronze and yellow mums with a headpiece of the same flowers. Bridesmaids, Mrs. William D. Cleland Jr. of Washington, Pa., and Mrs. George J. Jones were gowns of the same style in aqua brocade with flower head-dresses of pink and white mums and carried colonial bouquets of the same flowers.

Best man was Robert A. Knecht of Denver, Colo., and ushers were Robert E. Sullivan of Springfield, O., William O. Fahrenbruck of Tiffin, O., Stewart Waring Jr. of Wayne, Pa., and Robert L. Cleland. Preceding the ceremony, Garth Edmondson played a recital of organ music.

A reception in the coral room and ballroom of The Castle followed the ceremony. The bride party and mothers of the bride and groom received before an embarkment of palms in the coral room where buffet refreshments were served from a table lighted by white candles and decorated with vases of white carnations and mums. In the ballroom there was music played by a three-piece string ensemble.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Albert Knecht and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sullivan of Springfield, O., Mrs. William D. Cleland Jr. of Washington, Pa., Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Knecht of Denver, Colo., Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Fahrenbruck of Tiffin, O., Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Waring Jr. of Wayne, Pa., and George Crawford of Camden, N. J.

WASHINGTON CALLING

by MARQUIS
CHILD

Sees Better Home Than
New York For U. N.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—The vast sweep of America is overwhelmingly beautiful. You see that again and again when moving across the continent. Even the speed of the airplane cannot dwarf it. It is so much bigger than any of the jealous factions and the jealous little people who push and pull in the struggle for personal power.

The sharpness of line and sharpness of color of the American earth are indelible. Cities and towns, mountain and prairie and desert toll out like figures woven into a bright carpet.

The mood of Indian summer is on the middle west. Passing through Illinois and Iowa, the countryside looks rich and prosperous. The corn rows are down. The pumpkins lie in the quiet fields.

It is rich and prosperous. This is one of the stranger paradoxes of this strange year of our discontent.

Have Prosperous Look

The people have a prosperous look. On trains, in railway stations, in the feebly crowded hotels, they wear bright clothes. The women look as though they had just come from the hairdressers. If the edge of the boom has been dulled, as some people are beginning to say, it is not yet obvious.

In southern California many of the men wear sport clothes in the same bright colors worn by the women. Conservative easterners find this startling but Californians feel a compulsion to defy the persistent drama of the scenery.

It is unimpressive, the contrast of mountains and sea, snow and giant-sized flowers blooming in profusion. To live up to the stage setting of California you have to drive back something a little deeper to San Diego, once you leave the sprawling city behind, you get the breathing-taking expanse of the Pacific. And when a red sun drops down behind the rim of the west, the theatricality of it is hard to believe.

San Diego shines in bright, diamond-sharp light. It is one of the few cities where uniforms still predominate, since the navy has enormously expanded its installations. During the war San Diego's population nearly doubled. The soldiers and sailors who were stationed there during the war want to come back to live.

Another Kind Of Drama

Journeys eastward, with a stop at Tucson, you rediscover the probability of our American inheritance. Arizona is another kind of drama. The light lends a magic to the commonest shapes and the sunset spills color bright as flame over the jagged mountains.

New Orleans is relaxed, easy. The hospitality of the people is shown in their speech with the vowel sounds more generous, softer, than anywhere else. The streets have the look of a Latin capital.

In late afternoon the city lies serenely in the crescent of the Mississippi forming on its slow course to the Gulf. Lake Pontchartrain on the other side is a calm, flat sea. The haze over the city has a golden, dusty look, softening even the modern buildings in the downtown section.

The contrast with the great cosmopolis of New York is even sharper. New York, the financial capital of the world, has now suddenly become the political capital also. This is an honor which the city is not altogether prepared to accept.

U. N. Is Swallowed Up

The United Nations is swallowed up, lost, in the city's roar. Inevitably the whole apparatus—the delegates, the secretariat—are scattered both as to their living quarters and their work. This makes it difficult to give any center or focus to the organization.

The U. N. still appears in the role of a timid refugee, hoping for kindly treatment but not really sure of being accepted. The complexities and difficulties of living in the midst of booming, overcrowded New York are very great. They make for constant irritation and frustration.

With all of America to choose from, surely the struggling new organization can find a permanent home more nearly adopted to its needs. San Francisco, one of the most magnificent cities in the world, is eager to have the United Nations settle there. The issue should not be finally closed. The roar of the cosmopolis, the new Babylon, is not conducive to concentration and earnest effort.

Flushing Meadows—(gate 5 until further notice)—The guards here have more veto power than the Big Five. One correspondent called his paper "Have gained three yards in two days. . . I can almost see the building now."

Another one wired "Don't you believe what you hear about American Marines being in China. . . They're all in Flushing."

Instructions issued to the Marines seem to have read "Don't let anyone through this gate unless he has the proper credentials. . . He won't."

Anyhow there is a rumor kicking around that Secretary Krug has asked to borrow the veto power until Nov. 1.

John Lewis is asking a new contract from the government which is now operating the mines. . . If he doesn't get it his miners won't work.

The only solution seems to be for the government to ask the operators to seize the mines.

There is a feeling that John may be trying to embarrass the administration. . . as in 1940 when he came out for Wilkie and Roosevelt was elected.

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDEIS

A very kind lady who read about as he ran along on those short little legs of his, his ears would be flying in the wind and he would be letting out little yelps of sheer delight.

Then back into the car, and tired from the run, he'd fall asleep on the front seat between the two of us, his legs twitching in a happy dream of continued play.

We haven't talked much about Deuce since he left us. We didn't talk about him yesterday.

But we thought of him all the way, and when we passed the spot where he had been, we'd each send a silent greeting of love to him.

No, we don't want another dog for a long, long while—maybe never, no matter how much we like all dogs.

Because you see, when we lost him, we didn't lose just a dog. With him we lost something out of our own lives that was lovely.

We lost Deuce, our Deuce. (Copyright, 1946, King Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

From Me To You

There won't be many days like yesterday. . . the sun nice and warm in the clear fall air. Thousands of people took advantage of the day and put some miles on the old bus. . . It was definitely a day to be alive and yet alive in a great country. . . where one can go as he pleases, say what he pleases and then raise his children as he pleases.

It is important. . . very important. . . that we the people make an effort to keep the United States of America the type of nation that it was founded to be. Those who have gone before us. . . the men and women who fought hard, both with words and spears. . . set the nation apart from all others. Here everyone is equal. . . until he proves himself otherwise. Here a man has the opportunity to start at the bottom of the ladder and end at the top. . . and everyone has that opportunity. Where else can one do this?

It is each one's duty to see that we keep a government that will give the opportunities such as we have in the USA. . . that is why no one who is registered can afford to stay home on November 5th. . . get out and vote. The one tool that you have that other peoples of the world don't have.

Look around you right now. . . see what you have in your home. . . be it a two room flat or a fifteen room home. Modern appliances. . . a large variety of food stuff. And more things will be available just as soon as we allow the old law of supply and demand to work in full.

Old Transfer Game And Federal Payroll

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.

AS one thing after another happens to dismantle and diminish the Office of Price Administration, its complete dissolution within a matter of months is recognized as inevitable. This being the case, there is a quite natural apprehension in the ranks of the great army of OPA employees—estimated at close to 35,000.

MOST of these have been on the payroll for three or four years now. Among the bulk of them the desire—and the will—to stay on in the agency is very strong. It is in these ranks, so strong, in fact, that a large number of them, one way or another, always do succeed in doing exactly that. Of course, the final dissolution occurs, and the employees will automatically be discontinued, and there being no money to pay with, the payroll automatically disappears—and all 35,000 of the OPA army will be out of a job.

AT LEAST that is the theory. Logically, that should happen—but it practically never works out that way—and probably will not in this instance. For example, take the Office of War Information. When the war ended all need for the OWI was obviously over. Always a sloppily managed, bumble puppy sort of agency, its unavailability to public sentiment and nerve were no tears shed. The OWI heads received a large majority of the 20,000-odd pay-rollers rushed to get other jobs in private life.

BUT not all of them were able to do this—or wanted to do it. About 8,000 remained. These were transferred to the State Department. Others managed to get on their own. Others of various Federal boards and commissions. Thus when the supposedly complete OWI liquidation occurred, instead of the Federal payroll being reduced by that whole 20,000.

The number managed to stay on. The excuse for the State Department absorption of so many was that they were needed to man the new post-war State Department. An affair of information service, and of somewhat doubtful merit, which barely escaped Congress and is still in a hands of Congress and is still in a precarious position. But, if it had been that there would have been some other excuse.

IT IS no easy job to reduce a Government payroll. Nothing demonstrates this better than latest figures of Chairman Harry F. Byrd, of the Joint Committee on Reduction of the Nonessential Federal Expenditures. These show that a year after the war, in all departments, save the War and Navy, the number of civilian jobholders in the Federal payroll had increased in many cases by as much as 50 per cent. This does not mean that the Government is not making sense but it is none the less true. Though the emergency war agencies, said Senator Byrd, and officially reduced their jobholders by 105,364, the fact is that 67,881 of these are still on the payroll transferred to the old line agencies.

"THOUGH," he continued, "we have slowed down to an almost natural peacetime pace, the vast majority of office workers during the war still remain on the payroll. The conclusion is that jobs have been manufactured in order that they may be retained in inescapable."

This is a serious charge by a responsible man. It was made just at the close of the last session of Congress, and Senator Byrd warned that he is determined in the coming session to put an end to this business of transferring personnel from one agency to another.

THIS makes the prospects for the OPA army dark indeed. For in addition to the determination of Senator Byrd, there is the probability that in the next Congress the Republicans will control the House and have increased representation in the Senate. One of their main objectives will be to reduce the size and cost of the Federal machine. Of course, this ought to be done. But there is no use crediting the Republicans with too much zeal for the right. Quite naturally, the bulk of the Government jobs today are held by Democrats and New Dealers. This makes it much easier for the Republicans to be noble.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

VANDALISM ON HALLOWEEN

A great many adults dread the coming of Halloween. They know it is the time when many children suppose it is fun to mar, destroy or carry off property. Too, some old people who live alone are disturbed often on Halloween by prowling youngsters. Moreover, some little children are so frightened at this season that their fears may last for a long time.

It is amazing that the nation over most vandalism, as a rule, occurs in the better economic areas and at the hands of children living in these areas.

Of course, in recent years the harm done "just for fun" on Halloween has been greatly reduced in some communities, thanks to the planning by local neighborhoods and larger communities for safe and interesting activities for the children. Moreover, more and more families seem to be providing wholesome parties for children on that evening.

Yet year by year the pranks associated with Halloween start earlier and earlier so that for a week or more they may continue. Effective family or community parties hardly can extend over so long a period.

Anyhow, the wanton destruction of property during the Halloween season is merely an accelerated expression of vandalism by many children the year round. My bulletin, "Teaching Child Care Property" may be had in a stamped addressed envelope by writing me at 235 East 45th Street, New York, N. Y.

Great as is the economic loss from such destruction by children, this material loss is not the major issue. Damaged property can be repaired or replaced. But the harm to the moral fiber of the offending child is not so easily repaired. Indeed, this harm can last for months and years, even for a life-time.

Conscious Of Obligation

Most schools are growing conscious of their obligations to the child and the community. Some are making concentrated efforts just before Halloween to lead children to see why they should not engage in destructive fun at Halloween or any other time—and with good results. Character agencies and church groups of children also have emphasized the matter.

I have often thought that if I were a preacher I would, with strong convictions, preach a sermon prior to Halloween in which I not only would appeal to youth but also to parents concerning a sense of responsibility toward the rights and feelings of other persons. Wouldn't there be obvious spiritual values in such appeal?

Liability For Destruction

If we ever reach a level of social consciousness when state legislatures enact laws making parents as liable for the destruction by their children as by their chickens, other people's property, more parents might awaken to their senses. Isn't it amazing that whereas a person can collect damages from their own car practically never can collect damages perpetrated by children?

The time to begin to educate the child not to be a vandal at Halloween or any other time is while he is very young (and then to keep on at it eternally), teaching some basic inhibitions and due regard for the rights of other persons, and by parents who themselves are good examples.

We all want children to have lots of fun, but not fun at the expense of other persons; not pleasures that cause other people pain.

Words Of Wisdom

I attribute the little I know to my not having been ashamed to ask for information, and to my rule of conversing with all descriptions of men on those topics that form their own peculiar professions and pursuits.—Locke

"I do not think you can write anything of value or understanding about the present. You can only write about life if it is far enough in the past."—Playwright Eugene O'Neill.

Bible Thought

For every one that exalteth himself shall be abased, and he that humbleth himself shall be exalted.—Luke 14:14.

Of Your Target Be Sure

Pennsylvania hunters, soon ready to match their marksmanship with the dodging ability of various game animals and birds, should recall the gag which has become the nimrod's choicest safety warning: "Never shoot at a wild animal while it is lighting a cigar!"

Next to world peace, price control and the election, there is hardly a topic which will bear more discussion than safety.

We match our wartime casualties with highway deaths. We kill more people in our kitchens annually than we lost in the whole Spanish-American imbroglio. And a lot of boys who kept their heads down when Japanese bullets were flying say the foxholes were safer than some of our woodlands during the hunting season. There must be some truth to it—we certainly killed and wounded enough hunters during 1945.

We believe it will pay every hunter to take time enough to be sure his quarry isn't a fellow huntsman.

On Their Own

The nation's housewives, in their capacity as family food buyers, are practically on their own today. Wartime price controls on everything edible except sugar, syrups and rice have been removed, leaving only about 3 per cent of all foods under ceilings. Restrictions have also come off beverages and restaurant meals.

This means that housewives must now balance their food budgets, whether or not they include beverages and meals eaten out, without benefit of government-imposed curbs. For many of them that is already a difficult problem because of the general price level. And there is a possibility that items that are scarce will become more expensive temporarily.

But the behavior of meat since the government decontrolled that commodity should offer worried guardians of the pay check some comfort. While prices skyrocketed in some cities at first, as was expected, consumer resistance and increased supply has already had the effect of bringing them down to more reasonable levels. Meanwhile substitutes for meat have dropped.

A free market for food will mean that supply and demand will come into balance at prices that will tend to stabilize both production and consumption. Normal relationships eventually will be restored. Since food generally is expected to be plentiful unless there is another binge of shipments to Europe, prices will not long remain unreasonable on a single item. And housewives are not helpless. The pocketbook is a powerful weapon when used wisely.

Time For Realism

No statement of foreign policy by Secretary of State Byrnes has more definitely articulated American public opinion than his announcement that the United States will extend no more loans to foreign countries which display an unfriendly attitude toward this country and accuse America of "dollar imperialism."

It was entirely unnecessary for him to add that he meant Russia and the group of Eastern countries within her orbit. The phrase, "dollar imperialism," was made in Russia and has been favored by spokesmen for Russia and her satellite states. Thus representatives of Czechoslovakia in Paris picked up the Soviet chant of "economic imperialism" and "economic enslavement of Europe" to prejudice world opinion against the United States.

Secretary Byrnes made his announcement in connection with the recent cancellation of a $90,000,000 American credit to Czechoslovakia. It is interesting to note that while one government agency was considering this application for Czechoslovakia's "rehabilitation," another agency was engaged in selling on credit $50,000,000 worth of surplus Army goods, left over from the war, to that country. Now the State Department has cancelled the credit on the latter transaction and suspended talks about the first.

It is also interesting to observe that the surplus war goods, in course of being sold to Czechoslovakia, were being resold by that country to Romania at a profit—a typical Soviet move for the extension of communism. But in the main the State Department was moved to cancel both credits in protest against Soviet propaganda about "American policy of imperialism" in Eastern Europe.

Washington has been most generous to Russia, having given her priority over the Pacific theater in wartime for needed military supplies. What was done with lend-lease was later paralleled with UNRRA aid to Russia and her satellite states.

Thus Yugoslavia was a major beneficiary of American aid at the time Tito's gangsters shot down American aviators. UNRRA relief had not paid off well in Soviet-dominated lands. Wherever the people were benefited, they were kept in ignorance that their help came from the United States. Soviet authorities instead capitalized such aid as a Russian benefaction and thus perverted it to promote communism. Yugoslavia was enabled to keep a huge standing army, which otherwise would have been engaged in the production of such supplies as were forthcoming from America.

Definitely the time has come for a revision of the entire policy of extending aid to totalitarian Russia. Soviet spokesmen, by their criminal recriminations and fantastic charges, have practically been asking for it. Unless the fact is impressed upon Soviet Russia that she cannot pervert American good will against the interest of America, it will be impossible to deal firmly with the Moscow Reds in any way.

Roy Ahmaoak, an Alaskan Eskimo attending college in the United States, says that compared to Ayuktakut, a sport played by his folk, American football is about as rough a game as a rousing battle at tidewater.

Ayuktakut is played with a ball made of deer skin on a field 250 yards long—sort of a large, outdoor butcher shop.

The game begins by everybody slugging everybody else and anybody who ducks is thrown off the team as being too skiffed.

Nobody bothers about kicking the ball—not when opponents bodily make so much larger and livelier targets. In the pileup an excitable player is liable to gouge out his own eye.

There is no doctor in attendance so fractured skulls and broken legs are laughed off as just breaks of the game.

The object of the game is to carry the ball over the other fellows' goal line. However, anyone found in possession of it is simply inviting suicide.

Ayuktakut has but one rule and it is a very simple one. Players are forbidden to kill their opponents. On purpose, that is.

CAVES AND HOLES

Away back in the dim dead past our ancestors are said to have lived in caves.

They may have had rats as neighbors at that time. Perhaps the rats made holes for themselves just as they do now.

We have gotten away from the cave life, at least temporarily, but the rats still make holes to live in. Eventually the time may come when we will make a big effort to get rid of rats. It will be a very expensive undertaking but it will pay.

Rats destroy an immense amount of valuable every day. They are also the carriers of disease. If every building were made rat proof, it would help a lot.

It is a fairly easy job to rat proof buildings in a city, but it is a different proposition on a farm.

We may get a rat poison pretty soon which will help to solve the problem.

Men are more generous just before marriage than in any other periods of their lives.

Judge Is Seeking To End Brewery Unions Controversy

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 28.—(INS)—Allegheny County Common Pleas Judge Henry Ellenbogen was scheduled to hold a second meeting with leaders of the AFL and the CIO today in an attempt to work out a settlement in the jurisdictional brewery dispute that already has spread to five eastern seaboard states.

The dispute between the AFL teamsters and the CIO United Brewery Workers began in Pittsburgh last August when a brewery local seceded from the CIO and voted to join the teamsters.

The judge's action deferred, temporarily at least, a plan to gain a temporary court injunction against a group of western Pennsylvania beer distributors who have ignored AFL picket lines around the breweries.

The AFL leaders admitted that if Judge Ellenbogen's conference fails, they will take action against the distributors who allegedly have violated contracts with the teamsters by "handling unfair products."

Dissected Body Puzzles Police In New York City

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—(INS)—A dismemberment murder case baffled police today after parts of a man's body were recovered in five widely separated spots in the upper bay and East River.

Medical Examiner Thomas A. Gonzales said the body had been dissected apparently by an "expert" with surgical nicety.

The torso of the body has not been found but the head indicated the victim was about 45 and had brown hair and blue eyes. A tattoo of a keyhole in a heart with the inscription "E. L. 1930" was on the right arm of the victim.

Police said the body apparently was dissected and parts thrown into the water from an automobile. It was estimated the victim had been killed not more than three days ago.

Former Chaplain State AVC Leader

HARRISBURG, Oct. 28.—(INS)—Brice E. Gibson, former army chaplain from Williamsport, today headed the American veterans committee in Pennsylvania.

He was elected yesterday by delegates to the first AVC convention in Harrisburg along with vice-chairman Ralph T. Rice, of Pittsburgh, Secretary Stanley Greenberg, of Philadelphia, and Treasurer Jacob Gorelick, of Lancaster.

A spokesman said several resolutions had been adopted but that would not be disclosed until studied by the AVC legislative committee. Among the regional directors elected was Julius Rosenwald, of Jenkintown, son of Lessing Rosenwald, nationally-known philanthropist.

CALCUTTA, Oct. 28.—(INS)—British and Indian authorities called in extra troops and lengthened curfew hours today, as Hindu-Muslim rioting in Calcutta raised the death toll for the week above the 50 mark.

Reports from other sections of the country indicated that the pattern of religious outbreaks was being repeated on a wide scale. Twenty persons have been killed at Chapra, in Bihar Province, and nine others at Ludhiana, near Lahore.

Two others were reportedly killed and eight injured in Bombay.

Uses Glider Boxes To Build His Home

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 28.—(INS)—One Pittsburgh veteran has solved the problem of building a home despite the critical shortage of building materials.

Fred Mazzarini, an ex-sailor, bought a surplus army glider.

The glider, he admitted, is not suitable for conversion into a house.

But—and here is his solution—the army sells the gliders completely enclosed in five huge boxes.

He plans to build a four-room bungalow from the crates and get a little return on his investment by selling the glider either as a whole or in parts.

There are about 200 pounds of steel in the average household washing machine.

PITTSBURGH MAN "HARD LUCK KID" OF POWER STRIKE

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 28.—(INS)—Pittsburgh's power strike has caused inconvenience to hundreds of thousands of people—but Charles Wisniewski thinks he is the city's leading "hard-luck kid."

He complained:

"I have no electricity.

"I have been remodeling my house for the past five months and now I can't get the light company to connect two little electric lines.

Wisniewski, who has three children, continued:

"We have no refrigeration. My wife can't wash or iron and I have a gas-electric furnace that I can't use.

The ex-GI concluded bitterly:

"Why, I had more comforts in a fox hole. This is like living in the iron age!"

Cancer In State Ranks Third For Killing Children

HARRISBURG, Oct. 28.—(INS)—Cancer ranks third as a cause of death in Pennsylvania among children from birth to 15 years, and never falls below the fourth cause of death for any age group, the Pennsylvania division of the American Cancer Society reported today.

These figures, prepared by the state bureau of vital statistics, indicated the fallacy of the theory that cancer is an "old age" disease.

George B. Larson, state executive director of the society, declared:

"In only one age group, 15-24 years, does cancer fall as low as the fourth cause of death. From 35 years up it is second in the commonwealth. Throughout the nation, cancer never falls below the sixth cause of death.

"This is startling to realize that in our own state cancer ranks so high as a cause of death among young people," Larson said. "These statistics certainly help to shatter the old conception that cancer is a disease limited to elderly persons.

"Something must be done to reduce this death toll, not only among young people, but among the older ones. Knowledge of the seven cancer danger signals by everyone in the state would certainly tend to lower these grim figures, because cancer can be cured in a large percentage of cases if detected early."

REUNION SURPRISE FOR FRENCH BRIDES

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 28.—(INS)—Two French war brides who came to America on the same boat seven months ago met for the first time since their travels in a citizenship class in Pittsburgh.

Upon meeting, the two women, Mrs. Simone Root and Mrs. Simone Brown, both now residents of Pittsburgh, threw arms around each other and spoke excitedly in French.

Both expressed a desire to speak better English. Mrs. Root explained:

"It has become very difficult. I hear people say 'These darn Democrats, or these darn Republicans' and I do not understand. I'm anxious to know what it all means."

SEE BIG INCREASE IN HEATING BY OIL

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 28.—(INS)—In 1929, only 7500 homes were heated by oil.

In 1946, over two million dwellings use oil furnaces.

And in 1950 at least 50 per cent of the home heating will be furnished by oil.

That, at any rate, is the report from the Gulf Oil Corporation which announces the opening of a new research plant in Hamarville, Pa.

NEW RADAR

WRIGHT FIELD, Ohio.—(INS)—A newly developed light weight search radar, recently announced by Air Material Command Headquarters at Wright Field, Ohio, will remove the hazard of flying in darkness or fog and make 24-hour flight possible for the average light plane.

Underlying principles of the new development are the cathode ray tube, 360 degree microwave scan and reflections from objects in proportion to their position and degree of reflectivity.

Accurate fluorescent pictures of cities, rivers and terrain are painted by the cathode ray tube as navigation guides.

IF STOMACH BALKS DUE TO GAS AND BLOAT

Help Get Food Digested to Relieve Yourself of This Nervous Distress

Do you feel all puffed-up and miserable after every meal, taste sour, bitter food? If so, here is how you may get blessed relief in helping your stomach do the job—it should be doing—in the digestion of its food.

Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, touchy, fretful, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is an amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula, which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice plus rich red-blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better.

Avoid punishing yourself with over-doses of soda and other alkalis to counteract gas and bloating when what you so dearly need is SSS Tonic to help you digest food for body strength and repair. Don't wait! Join the host of happy people SSS Tonic has helped. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle of SSS Tonic from your drug store today. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

Lobbyists More Highly Paid Than Members Of Congress Of U. S. A.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—(INS)—"Don't be surprised if, out in front of the Capitol building one of these days, a peculiar sort of packet line starts packing back and forth—its frock-coated paraders bearing strike banners with this strange device:

"This country unfair to congressmen!"

Or maybe the signs will read like this:

"Law-makers earn less than lobbyists who influence law-makers!"

Or maybe this:

"Don't pay a lobbyist ten times my salary just to talk to me. I'll talk to myself and half the price!"

Could Build Up Case

And certainly the striking soldiers could build up quite a case . . .

A senator or representative is paid $10,000 a year. He gets some travel expenses, free mailing privileges and a few other budget-trimming breaks. Then, if he's honest, that's the end of it.

On that dough, he must manage to maintain two homes—one here and one back in his own backwoods—and attempt to live in the manner expected of a leader of the land . . .

A lot of the lads who have had a somewhat tough time trying to do it have been walking around with a sinister cast to their countenances lately. And when you see that martyred look on their faces, it's a safe bet that they've been up tooling around the file clerk's office in room 322 of the old house office building.

It is there that lobbyists who take pay for trying to influence congressmen on matters legislative have been supposed to register of late—under terms of the new La Follette-McCormack measure.

The streamlined statute was supposed to put the spotlight on super salesmen who draw steady salaries for seeking to sway the solons on some specific measure. Also, it was designed to help conscientious detect the difference between an individual taxpayer and a highly-paid professional spokesman for special interests.

Perhaps it will. But with the filing deadline past, already it is agreed about town that the new legal net landed only a few of the small and/or honest lobbyists. Loopholes left the big ones loose.

Nevertheless, a single look at the limited list now on file will leave you with the impression that trying to convince a congressman must be the costliest kind of conversation on record—except those you have with the bookmaker or the judge . . .

Highly Paid

For instance, leading the registered lobbyists in here is one P. L. Smith, president of the National Association of Electric Companies. A bunch of electric companies around the country reimburse Mr. Smith to the tune of $5,416 a month, or about $65,000 per year, for those little chats he has out on Capitol Hill.

Silver-tongued? Hah! Chum, that's solid 10-karat conversation!

Then there's Tom J. McGrath who hauls in a hundred bucks per day from the National St. Lawrence conference project whenever he discusses any bill to build a seaway.

(For that dough, I'd stage a filibuster in Statuary Hall!)

The list of those who get more dough for talking to congressmen than the legislators themselves receive is very long indeed. There's Ivy Lee and T. J. Ross who are paid $23,000 a year by the United States Cuban Sugar council. And the lobbyists for the American Medical Association who draws $15,000 a year, "plus $5,000 set aside annually as retirement fund."

That totals twice the congressmen's kitty, and don't forget expenses. Sometimes they double and triple the lobbyist's take.

The American National Livestock Association pays P. E. Molin about $10,000 a year for whatever influence he can wield around Washington. Considering recent events, I'd say he's underpaid . . .

Laurel? Martin H. Miller, Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, gets $12,180. Veterans? The American Legion pays Col. John Thomas Taylor $10,000. Business? Calum K. Snyder gets $10,000 from the National Association of Real Estate Boards. Others? The unemployment Benefit Advisors, Inc. pays R. D. Leach $12,000 annually.

And in addition to these comparative small-try lobbyist salaries who still outstrip the congressmen's influence, there runs a recurring echo of "and expenses . . . plus expenses . . . expenses . . ."

Of course, here and there you find someone such as Leslie R. Franklin of Greensboro, N. C., who swears he sweats without a salary, but still will lobby for anyone "who believes in free enterprise . . ."

And, you're barking up the wrong tree. If there's one enterprise in this town that isn't free, it's lobbying!

New Windsor, Orange county, New York, is the birthplace of Gov. Dewey Clinton, famous as the builder of the Erie canal.

John Marshall, former U. S. chief justice, was born in West Virginia on the site of what now is Marshall college, named in his honor.

Girl Scout Week Now In Progress

Girl Scouts of New Castle are joining with sister Girl Scouts in more than 8,000 communities for the observance of Girl Scout week which started Sunday. According to plans announced by Mrs. Paul Forney, Lawrence county scout commissioner, the scouts will have a display of arts and crafts in a department store window.

Mrs. Forney estimates that 875 local Girl Scouts are taking part in the observance this year—the largest number in the history of the organization. This week, which includes the birthday of Juliette
Low, founder of American Girl Scouting, is being celebrated in New Castle for the twentieth time. Mrs.
Low's birthday is October 31.

"Citizenship in Action Around the World" is the theme of the week's activities, Mrs. Forney said, because it typified the widespread interest and effort of the Girl Scouts in behalf of world friendship and understanding.

WILL USE SCRIPT
NUERNBERG, Oct. 28.—(INS)—
A member of the French delegation in Nuernberg said today that France will introduce script currency in her zone of Germany next month.

The United States and Britain already are using script to replace the black market in currency.

The Army favored these breeds for war dogs: German shepherd, Belgian sheep, Doberman Pinscher,
Scottish collie and (right) Schmauzer.

Bride-To-Be Is Stranded By Air
Line Pilots' Strike

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—(INS)—If love can find a way, Lee Haskins, 27, of suburban Oak Park would like it to end the Trans-World Air-line pilots' strike today.

Haskins' bride-to-be, Sylvia Paine, 25, of Hastings, Eng., is stranded 3,767 miles away in Shannon, Eire, by the strike.

He met her overseas when he was a sergeant in the army air forces. Miss Paine was in the British women's service forces.

Haskins is fearful that the nearly eight months of effort it took to get passage to his country for his future bride may be wasted.

Yesterday he sent telegrams to the leaders of the pilots' strike, asking them to call off their walkout and give him and Miss Paine a break.

Quarterly Income
Tax Payments Due

Employers, who are liable for social security on Form SS 1-A, and withholding tax on Form W-1, are reminded by G. A. Funkhouser, deputy collector of internal revenue, that October 31 is the final date for filing current tax forms and making payments on these taxes for the third quarter of 1940.

The division office of the internal revenue department, room 201 Post Office building, is open from 8:30 a. m. to 5:50 p. m. for the payment of taxes, and those wishing to avail themselves of paying the tax in cash here may do so by presenting their payment with the tax forms at the above office.

POWER STRIKE IS CAUSE OF RISE IN PUBLIC ASSISTANCE

HARRISBURG, Oct. 28.—(INS)—The Pittsburgh Power strike which made thousands of workers idle was blamed today by the department of public assistance for most of the increase of 842 relief recipients during the week ended October 19 which boosted the total burden to 268,204 persons.

Acting Secretary Robert P. Wray said the bulk of the increase was confined to Allegheny county.

TWO ARE HELD IN CRASH

Charles Buckner, 20, Mainland street, alleged operator, was charged by Police Chief Robert D. Hanna with having driven an auto while intoxicated which struck the car of John Fumati, 636 Forest street, at Division and Mill streets Saturday evening. He pleaded guilty before Alderman James C. Bruce. Peter Gierard, 514 East Reynolds street, owner of the car, was charged with permitting Buckner to drive the car. Both gave bail for future court. Policemen H. L. Richards and Price arrested the men.

REPORT THEFT OF WATCH

Police received a report Saturday afternoon from Dorothy Gordon, 701 Croton avenue that someone had stolen a 14-carat yellow gold watch from her home.

CLARKS SUMMIT—Paul Spitzer, president of the local CIO—Workers' union, led his followers on a months strike and then re-enlisted in the army as a technical sergeant.

not quite up to mother's standard?

Does the army make you feel all frustrated?Don't tell it to the chaplain—tell it to Brig. Gen. William H. Middleswart who wants to make the American soldier the happiest in the world.And if you didn't raise your boy to be a soldier, Middleswart believes that his research will still help you to keep a man happy and contented.The general is director of military planning for the Quartermaster Corps. He revealed today the plans his unit has for determining how food, clothing and general attention react on men. He said in part:Intense Research"We are now in the midst of one of the greatest and most intensive research program ever undertaken.
We hope to learn why great groups of men, for example, enjoy spaghetti and meat balls while equally large groups think them unappealing.""Take the matter of clothing. We are now working on a development which will eliminate shrinking of wool garments. Now we that may seem like a small matter, but a poorly-made man is an uncomfortable and inefficient individual.""He's got to be dressed right to feel right. That is not possible in clothing that shrinks.""I think we're going to look that problem in a relatively short time."The Quartermaster Corps program will also study the effect of climate, physiological and psychological factors—such as anxiety, fear and tension—on dietary preferences.The development of sun glasses more scratch and fog resistant than any formerly used will be attempted by use of a plastic lens. They are expected to be "so comfortable that a man won't even know he has them on."Tests made with a robot who has been widely described as being able to do most everything but worry are designed to determine the effects of temperature on men and their reactions.Quartermaster Corps researchers also are said to have perfected specialized shoe lasts to overcome impediments to walking suffered by veterans injured by land mines or victims of industrial accidents.

Middleswart concluded:

"In effect, what we are trying to do now is to get, Pet. John Smith, U. S. Army, in front of the scientists and have him say: Here are some of my problems, fellows. Can you help me out?"When the answers are turned in, Mr. and Mrs. America will also be available many new things to improve their health, happiness and effectiveness."Research is underway in Chicago, St. Philadelphia, Pa., Boston and Lawrence, Mass.All together now, men: "General Middleswart, this is my problem."A&P

California Rooter 14 Hours Late For Northwestern Game

Stockton, Calif., Mechanic Wanted To See College Of Pacific Play But Got Blinded Up

EVANSTON, Ill., Oct. 28.—(INS)—Evanston police today told of a loyal college of the Pacific rooster who got his football game strategy a little mixed-up or maybe blinded. He is Ferdinand Coldwater, a Stockton, Calif., garage mechanic.

They discovered him early yesterday sitting all by himself on the 50-yard line at Dyche stadium, where his home town team had played Northwestern university Saturday afternoon.

He was wearing a Daniel Boone style fur cap, a bulky overcoat, two wool sweaters, two suits of underwear, and a pair of overalls. Sgt. Harry Witt said the neck of a bottle protruded from a coat pocket. Witt asked:

"Waiting for someone, pal?" Coldwater replied:

"Waiting? Of course I'm waiting. When's the game going to start? I came all the way from sunny California."

Witt told him the game was all over. He added:

"The college of the Pacific was beaten by Northwestern, 26 to 13, about 14 hours ago, pal."

Police permitted Ferdinand to leave for home after a brief rest.

80-Year-Old Lady's Rheumatic Pains Go! She Praises Rhu-Aid

Recently an 80-year-old lady, living near here, stated that she almost suffered death with rheumatic pains in her whole right side. When she tried to walk she would simply flinch with agony and says she had become just a "bundle of nerves" due to her long period of suffering. She bought all kinds of medicines, but nothing seemed to work on her until she got Rhu-Aid. She states she was amazed at the results when she got this medicine. Now the rheumatic pains have gone from her entire right side. She can walk without suffering for the first time in years and says her nerves are "strong as steel." She feels like a new woman.

Rhu-Aid is the new liquid formula containing three valuable medical ingredients. These Three Great Medicines, all blended into one, go right to the very cause of rheumatic and neuritic aches and pains. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering! CITIZENS OF LAWRENCE COUNTY

Politically conscious Republicans of the 25th Congressional District are tired of apologizing for the record of the 'ILLUSTRIOUS DUNDER-HEAD' Congressman Louis E. Graham.

Time after time the party leaders have, with no regard as to the wishes of the ordinary party members, thrust this man upon us. His record is so reactionary that even the titular heads of the party in the three counties came to open disunity over the future of this political monstrosity last spring, but certain parasites of industry in the party ranks in Beaver County forced him upon the Republican leadership from Butler and Lawrence Counties.

We, the members of the Republicans To Defeat Graham group, have not deserted the Republican party nor do we wish you to do so.

We believe that Graham should be defeated because he has not been representative of our party (our party leaders know this). He has been anti-farmer, anti-labor, anti-veteran and has opposed public opinion on all important issues in the past eight years.

We are convinced that Sam G. Neff is sincere in the platform he offers and represents our stake in the future of America to a greater degree than Graham could ever hope to in his fumbling incoherent way.

We ask that you, A Progressive American vote for Sam G. Neff and aid us in this fight to give the people of the 25th Congressional District a Congressman representative of the people, freeing us from the necessity of apologizing for the black record of this man who has mis-represented us for the past 8 years.

Sincerely,
Neff for Congress Committee.
JERRY H. WORKLEY, Chairman.

National Air Mail Week Opens

Post Office Department Calls Attention To Speedy Service Now Available At Low Cost

This week is being observed throughout the United States as National Air Mail Week, during which time, the Post Office Department is calling the attention of its patrons to the fact that Air Mail service is available for expedited transmission of mail by air, at a cost very little above that of ordinary first class mail. Postmaster William R. Hanna stated today.

With the reduction of Air Mail rates recently from eight cents per ounce to five cents per ounce, it costs only two cents more to send an ordinary letter by air mail than by regular mail service.

Air Mail service in the United States is now 28 years old, the first regular service having been established between Washington and New York in May, 1918, but its development has been even more dramatic than that of many other services available. It was only 38 years prior to the establishment of air mail that a mail system of any kind to span the continent was established. This was during the administration of President Abraham Lincoln when the pony express system was inaugurated from Missouri to the Pacific coast.

The first transcontinental air mail service was established in 1924, and on February 15, 1925, contracts were let to private air lines for the hauling of mail on different routes.

Air mail sent special delivery insures the fastest mail service available today, mail often being delivered within a matter of a few hours after being dispatched.

Stowaway Bound For English Wife Faces Return Home

LONDON, Oct. 28.—(INS)—A Minneapolis ex-GI who is enroute to England today by stowing away aboard the liner Queen Elizabeth to see his British wife and child may have to return to the United States for the reunion.

Kingsley Foster is due in Southampton Wednesday, but Mrs. Kay Foster and six months old Lesley Marilyn may go aboard a vessel for the United States momentarily.

The 26-year-old Mrs. Foster, who hasn't seen her husband for a year, was frantic with worry when she heard of his act. She said:

"Kingsley has done a very foolish thing. I should have sailed on the John Edson Oct. 17 on my booking which was delayed owing to the strike."

"I'm expecting a message at any time telling me to come aboard immediately."

Mrs. Foster declared:

"If the message comes I shall go to America with Lesley even if it means passing my husband en route, because after waiting so long I dare not ask missing passage."

The young British wife said that if she has that sailed by Wednesday she will go to Southampton to see her husband when the Queen Elizabeth arrives. She said forlornly:

"I tried to telephone him aboard the Queen Elizabeth but the captain refused the call."

Albino Roumanian Society Has Fortieth Anniversary Event On Sunday

Forty years of fraternal service were celebrated Sunday, October 27, by the Albino Roumanian society in the club house on South Jefferson street. About 200 attended the dinner and many of them attended the religious service and cemetery memorial before the dinner.

Peter Pacurar was the toastmaster of the day and introduced the various speakers. Rev. Nicholas Moldovan of Farrell made the invocation. Mayor John P. Haven addressed the dinner crowd and welcomed the guests from Farrell, Sharon, Youngstown, Canton, Cleveland, Aliquippa, Akron and other cities. He congratulated the organization upon its record of law obedience and expressed his personal pleasure at being present.

Adolf Green, president of the Peoples bank, and one of the founders of the society 40 years ago, reminisced upon the early days and expressed his pleasure at the flourishing society today.

Other speakers were John N. Sarbo, now of Akron, O., and the first president of the society; Rev. Moldovan, Rev. Eli Gehena of Ellwood City, Leonta Copaca of Salem who played "Happy Birthday" on his trumpet in addition to speaking. President John Russo and others.

Preceding the dinner the religious service was held in the assembly rooms of the club and the memorial service was held in Greenwood cemetery. This year the memory of Nick Moran was especially honored.

Officers of the society are John Russo, president; Sam Mallt, vice president; Absalom Suciu, secretary, and John Flsu, treasurer.

Shenango Branch Of YMCA Growing

Important Work Is Being Done
In City By New YMCA
Organization

After more than a year of planning and soliciting, Negro citizens of New Castle raised $3,500 as the basis of their Y. M. C. A. branch, and dedicated that branch on December 16, 1945.

Since that time, the Shenango branch has become fully organized and steadily larger. Today 178 men and boys are members, 78 being senior members and 100 being juniors. Under the membership committee, headed by Jerome Cooper, the branch hopes to attain an enrollment of 200 before the end of the year.

Dr. James A. Gillespie is chairman with the following heads of committees: Ray McHenry, boys work; Berl Hall, camp; Harry Carter, activities; Frank Bailey, finance; W. Lash, house; Jerome Cooper, religious work.

All junior boys are organized into supervised groups, and many of them have attended various conferences, rallies and meetings with other groups. Some of the other supervised activities of the branch are the Boy Scouts, the Co-Ed club, the Teen-Age Canteen and a journalistic club which is editing a report of activities of the branch and sending it to all members.

To further stay within the right scope of Y. M. C. A. work, the branch is chartered with the state association, as are all of the boys' clubs.

Limited facilities prevent the further extension of the program, but it is the plan of the branch to furnish as many activities as can be adequately supervised. It is the fundamental desire of the branch to do its part in the community work and to be recognized as an active "Red Feather" organization.

At a meeting of the program committee, the program was outlined and planned, and will be completed.

The event will start with a dinner at 6:30 o'clock, followed by a program. Dancing will be featured later in the evening and the committee has engaged a popular local orchestra to provide music for the dancing.

Members of the class have been notified of the first get-together, and already many reservations have arrived from those residing out of town.

Reservations are to be soon as possible, and the committee in charge includes Cecelia Turner Jones, Fred Allen, Edward Porada, and Helen and Tommy McCormick.

CURIOSITY URGES CHILD TO EXPLORE AND LEARN

Some of the things a child does that annoy his parents are necessary to his development. He does them because there is an urge coming from within that pushes him on to act. It is Nature's way of educating or developing the child's abilities and knowledge, explains Miss Marguerite Little, family life specialist of the Pennsylvania State college agricultural extension service.

Many times one of the first real conflicts the child has with his parents comes when he is beginning to move about under his own power. There is so much around him that is new and different and the impulse to touch and handle what he sees is always present. He is learning through the sense of touch. Perhaps from his sitting position, a child has seen these interesting objects but now comes the opportunity to explore them using another of his senses. Coupled with this is his never-satisfied curiosity. He wants to know in every way he can about everything he sees around him.

Knowing the objects in his surroundings is a good thing for a child, says Miss Little. Curiosity fosters experimenting, exploring and probing into the unknown. When parents understand what is taking place in the child they want to promote his development. At the same time they want to protect the child and their own possessions.

During this early toddler period, it might be wise for parents to put away the cherished objects that the child might damage when handling.

Some articles cannot be put away and it would not be wise to do so because the "not touch" lesson needs to be learned, too. Handling of these objects can be done with parental supervision. A tour of the house made by parent and child together can aid in satisfying curiosity so the child won't be tempted to explore on his own.

Having books, pots and pans, drawers and cupboards that belong to the child will help to protect the adult's possessions. Instead of saying "no" and "don't," parents can say "Mary's cupboard. Mary's pans. These are mother's."

In the belief that the child's dog might lead it to another world, the Eskimos are said to bury a dog with a dead child.

CANTEEN SERVICE FOR VA HOSPITAL

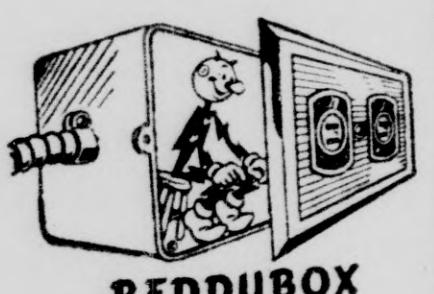

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 28.—(INS).—The first canteen service to be operated by a Veterans Administration hospital in Pennsylvania will be opened today in the Veterans hospital at Coatesville, it was disclosed yesterday.

Frederick W. Spatz, chief of canteen service in the VA's branch office 3, said the service will be adopted eventually by all veteran hospitals in the area and will displace the former system of hospital canteens run by concessionaires.

If you wish to conserve farm flood water, remember that a crooked run-off stream retards the rate of flow by 30 to 60 per cent.

G. O. P. Facing Job Picking New Majority Leaders

By WILLIAM THEIS
(N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Republicans face a main-sized job of organizing and picking majority leaders if they win control of the house or senate in the Nov. 5 elections.

There is little dispute today among GOP members on who would set the No. 1 jobs in each house.
Rep. Joseph W. Martin Jr. (R)
Mass., present minority leader, would be house speaker, Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg (R) Mich., could have the post of president pro temporis of the senate if he wished it.

But Republicans, confident of a house victory and "hopeful" of winning senate control, foresee ticklish contests for majority leader in either event.

In the house, as it stands less than a fortnight from election day, the majority leadership under GOP control would go to either Rep.
Clarence J. Brown (R) Ohio, or Rep. Charles A. Halleck (R) Ind.
Brown is said to have the edge.

Tough Choice

Political observers regard it as a tough choice, with possible repercussions in the 1948 presidential situation. Both men are popular, have strong followings in the house, and are key figures in the current campaign.

In the senate, a Republican victory would pose a different but also perplexing problem for leaders of a new-found majority.

Sen. Robert A. Taft (R) Ohio, chairman of the senate GOP steering committee, is regarded by his colleagues as the man best fitted to become majority leader if he wants the job.

But some Republicans point out that Taft is a strong contender for the GOP presidential nomination in 1948. They emphasize that the son of President William Howard Taft might endanger his 1948 prospects by assuming a post in which he would be called upon daily to "step out in front" on virtually all issues.

Taft would be in a stronger position two years hence, these Republicans contend, if he exercised his leadership on specific legislation—timely his shots—while serving as strategy chairman and head of the senate finance committee.

Doesn't Want Job

Sen. Wallace H. White (R) Maine, present minority leader, is understood to have indicated he has no desire to take over the back-breaking job of majority leader in a Republican senate. White is now 70.

After Taft, White and Vandenberg—the latter also a potential presidential candidate—the "If we win" GOP speculation catalogues
Sen. Owen Brewster (R) Maine,
H. Styles Bridges (R) N. H., and Kenneth Wherry (R) Neb., as next in line for the job now held by Sen. Alben Barkley (D) Ky.

Brewster and Bridges both are regarded as outstanding floor strategists and debaters. Both have been active in past campaigns and are veteran senators. Wherry, now minority whip, is pegged as one of the most aggressive Republicans.

Against his chances, however, is his first-term status in the upper chamber.

The system of registering letters was first adopted in the U. S. in 1855.

Thank God For Muscle-Rub!

Writes Mr. Robert Jordan,

Advices every sufferer

—Sciatic—Neuritic Pains to try Muscle-Rub.

Here's the true story of a man who took treatments, used all kinds of remedies for his sciatic, neuritic pains without being helped in the slightest degree.
Mr. Robert Jordan of Colon, Mich., suffered agony from pains in his hip-bones—call of legs. The pain at times was so bad that he couldn't sit down without severe different treatments.
He tried several different medicines, all of which did him no good. He couldn't work. Life was misery for him.

Then one day he saw an advertisement of Muscle-Rub—the doctor's prescription and in desperation bought a bottle. He used it as directed and in 3 days the pains were relieved and Mr. Jordan was back on the job.

No wonder he advises every rheumatic sufferer to try Muscle-Rub for fast pain relief. Get a bottle today at
